

Living Environment Self Help

The Topics and Areas in the Living Environment Self Help are the same as the Topics in the Living Environment Test Maker.

The focus and conceptual understandings in the various areas are consistent with the recommendation of the National Science Education standards and Benchmarks of Science Literacy. Some of the areas included are the chemistry of Life, Cell Structure, Maintenance in vertebrates and Invertebrates, Human Biology, Genetics, Principles of Evolution, Ecology. Environmental Problems and Solutions.

From our large database, students have experiences in interpretations and analysis of graphs, maps, charts, and diagrams. differentiate between independent and dependent variables, organize data through the use of data tables and graphs, formulate an appropriate conclusion to generalizations from the results of an experiment, analyze data.

To view all the topics, print out the Living Environment Test Maker “Web Demo and Topics”.